i) Soft Skill Training programme to equip the students

The institution has introduced a course on soft skills to enable the students face interview, participate in group discussions and communicate with confidence and conviction. Hard skills refer to one's education, experience and expertise. Soft skills influence how one interacts with others. They include abilities such as effective communication, creativity, analytical thinking, leadership and team building communication skills form the basis of soft skills. The four basic skills are listening, reading speaking and writing. These four skills constitute overall communication skills. Speaking is the vital component of soft skills. The way one speaks decides the success or failure of communication.

The institution has conducted entrepreneurial training to mould the students to acquire and practise soft skills such as communication skills, leadership qualities and stress management. The soft skills training programme is focused on the twin objectives of grooming our students to become employable and facilitating them to get good placement. The institution plays an effective role in catering to the needs and wants of the employers. The tutors also motivate and talk to the students about the soft skill and its importance in placement opportunities.

Our students are coming from rural background. Most of the students passed their high school education through Tamil medium. When they are admitted newly in our institution, they are not eloquent and fluent in their speech.

In this competitive world, depth of knowledge and power of expression are the two essential competencies of young professional graduates of today. Having this in mind our teachers strain every nerve to train the students to speak well in English. They make great efforts to carry the students to the heights.

ii) ECO AWARENESS PROGRAMMES

The College which is situated in the tropical regions of the southernmost part of Tamil Nadu considers it a prime duty to contribute significantly towards a healthy ecological society. Because we deem it our responsibility to sustain and replenish Nature, we have constantly involved in Nature-oriented projects. Prominent among them is planting of trees at regular intervals in and around the campus. The tree planting programmes were held in the campus. The trees not only serve as a haven of shade during extremely hot conditions but also play a major part in maintaining a healthy ecological system. Apart from shade-giving trees, trees that are suitable for fruit-yielding are also grown in the college garden. The Coconut Grove stands tall as a testimony to our ecological initiatives. Further, plantain trees add on to the green atmosphere. Moreover, the students of the NSS Programme actively participate in planting trees outside the campus as well. They visit villages and involve in cleanliness campaigns during camps. Their contributions are significant to the ecologically backward conditions that are usually prevalent in these villages.

Another campaign of repute is prohibition of plastics in the campus. The College strictly avoids the use of plastics at all levels as it is a destroyer of a sustainable ecosystem. The staff involve in evoking awareness in the students about its harmful effects. The inmates of the College are strictly forbidden to use plastics. Students also realize its adverse effects and cooperate by forbidding its use. The Institution can proudly acclaim that it is a plastic-free zone.
